Tutorial submission guideline and general instructions for students

The tutorial project has to be submitted on the scheduled date and time as mentioned in the notice above.

Students in each course must write both answers in a single answer script/ Tutorial project file.

Students are to write the correct question number and copy the relevant question in each case.

A4 sheets are preferable for the tutorial. Students are advised to use the cheapest paper possible and to write on both sides of the page.

Pages must be stapled in proper order. Channel binding is strictly prohibited.

No acknowledgement page is needed.

References consulted for the answer may be mentioned at the end of the answer in MLA format. (Optional)

Students must avoid illustrations and photographs within their answer.

Answers should be handwritten and original i.e. of one's own.

Answers generated by AI tools such as ChatGPT, ClaudeAI, Scribe, Writesonic etc shall be marked 0.

The cover page of the tutorial scripts should have the following details:

Course name:
Name of the paper:
Semester:
Name of the student:
University roll no. (in case such has been provided by the university)
