PROSPECTUS

2023-2024

REDUCING CARBON FOOTPRINT THROUGH PAPERLESS TRANSACTIONS

During the academic session 2021-2022 a college management system has been implemented by the college. The system is cloud based and it can be accessed from anywhere with any internet enabled devices. Earlier the students had to pay their fees and submit the payment receipt to the college office which accumulates a lot of papers. The newly introduced system reconciles the payment data from bank / payment gateway and prepares report therefore students are not required to submit any payment receipt to the college, which will significantly reduce the carbon footprint and will be beneficial for long term environmental protection.

IMPLEMENTATION OF COLLEGE MANAGEMENT SYSTEM

During the academic session 2021-2022 a college management system has been implemented by the college. It is a web-based Enterprise resource planning (E.R.P.) application to manage all aspects of student, Staff and Management. The system is hosted in cloud server thus allowing to access information at any point of time using any internet enabled devices. The cloud application manages all financial transaction from the student end for their respective fees payment. The system provides unique user ID & password to students & Staff for accessing their data from the cloud server. The system generates all kind of academic & administrative reports required for smooth functioning of the college.

BASANTI DEVI (23rd March, 1880 – 7th May, 1974)

HISTORY OF THE COLLEGE

Basanti Devi College was founded by the Government of West Bengal in 1959 and became part of a cluster of colleges including Muralidhar Girls' College (1940), Deshbandhu College (1955) and Women's Christian College (1937), all dedicated to the education of girls from middle class families, in the Gariahat-Kalighat area. The College is named after Basanti Devi (1880-1974) who was patriot and revolutionary activist and the first Indian woman to go to jail. She was also the wife of the nationalist leader Deshbandhu Chittaranjan Das. In naming the college after her the Government of West Bengal at that time appeared to recognize women's contribution to a free and independent India.

This premier college caters to the needs of girl students from diverse class backgrounds, hailing from both the North and Southern areas of the city. Its strategic location, close to the four-point Gariahat intersection, and proximity to Ballygunge Railway Station gives it an easy accessibility to students especially from the South 24 Parganas who travel from Sonarpur and Baruipur. The college offers a wide variety of subjects allowed at the undergraduate level for both Honours and Pass by the University of Calcutta and follows its prescribed syllabi. In addition, students are made to participate in a larger program of cultural and social enhancement and empowerment. The college regularly hosts U.G.C. seminars and conferences, human rights workshops, cultural events like Rabindra Jayanti, and motivates students to participate in self-help programmes like the NCC and NSS. Along with education the college emphasizes the importance of developing a sense of social responsibility and commitment.

The college was reaccredited (3rd cycle) by NAAC in 2018 and was awarded grade B+ (2.51 on 7-point scale) and is proud of its highly qualified faculty members who remain engaged in both teaching and research. Their commitment is borne out by the fact that many of our students are rank holders at the university level examinations. As part of our ongoing vision to enhance educational opportunities for women students from different sections of society, the college has also introduced Postgraduate (M.A.) programmes in English and Political Science from September 2013. Introducing the college to new students gives us a moment to recollect and remember the woman patriot who gave the college her name. Basanti Devi was the daughter of Baradanath Halder, Diwan of a large zamindari in Assam. Her life may be divided into three phases.

In the first phase, she spent her childhood under the care of her father from 1890 to 1897. She was educated at Loreto House, Calcutta, and at the age of seventeen years, she was married off to Chittaranjan Das, then an obscure barrister at the Calcutta High Court. During the next ten years she was a home-maker, managing a prosperous family, with many dependent relatives. From 1908 her husband became the most famous lawyer of Bengal; he successfully defended Aurobindo Ghose and his militant nationalist associates in the Alipore Bomb case and obtained their acquittal.

The second phase of Basanti Devi's life began in 1917 when C.R. Das joined active politics and was elected the chairman of the Bengal Provincial Congress. That eventually led to Das's decision to abandon the legal profession in response to Mahatma Gandhi's call for Non-cooperation and boycott of the British courts of law in 1920. Income from legal practice ceased to flow into the family coffers and this meant a drastic change in the lifestyle of Basanti Devi's family. She herself was totally convinced that the Non-cooperation Movement merited her support. On 2 December 1921, her political activities in support of the movement for boycott of foreign cloth led to her arrest; her sister Urmila Devi and some other women Congress workers were also arrested. There was a huge public outcry against the arrest of ladies of leading Bengali families and Basanti Devi and the others were soon released. However, C.R. Das was arrested and Basanti Devi took it upon herself to edit the Congress journal Banglar Katha while her husband was in jail. In 1922, she was elected Chairman of the Bengal Provincial Congress meeting and took prominent part in Bengal politics. This chapter of her life came to a close in 1925 when her husband suddenly passed away at the age of fifty-five.

The third phase in Basanti Devi's life comprises the fifty long years till her death in 1974. The death of her husband was followed by the death of their son Chiranjeet in 1926. Deeply shocked, she almost completely retired from public life. She continued to be associated with some social welfare institutions founded by her husband but her political life came to an end. Little is known of her private life in this last phase of her life except that in arranging her daughter's marriage she boldly defied caste prejudices.

Principal's discretion – 5 days

Where the mind is without fear and the head is held high;
 Where knowledge is free
 Where the world has not been broken up into fragments
 By narrow domestic walls
 Where words come out from the depth of truth;
 Where tireless striving stretches its arms towards perfection;
 Where the clear stream of reason has not lost its way
 Into the dreary desert sand of dead habit;
 Where the mind is led forward by thee
 Into ever-widening thought and action;
 Into that heaven of freedom, My Father, let my country awake.

Rabindranath Tagore

Thinking should become your capital asset, whatever ups and downs you may come across in your life.

Dr. A.P.J. Abdul Kalam

The true wealth of a nation consists not in the store-up gold but in the intellectual and physical strength of its people.

C. V. Raman

The true laboratory is the mind, where behind illusions we uncover the laws of truth.

Jagadish Chandra Bose

(The education which does not help the common mass of people to equip themselves for the struggle for life, which does not bring out strength of character, a spirit of philanthropy, and the courage of a Lion- is it worthy of the name? Real education is that which enables one to stand on one's own legs.)

(Swami Vivekananda)
