Report of the programme

On August 6, 2020, the Department of Bengali and IQAC at Basanti Devi College hosted a captivating webinar titled "Manik: 100: In a New Light," commemorating the centenary of the celebrated filmmaker and auteur, Satyajit Ray. The event, which was attended by 100 participants, explored the enduring legacy of Ray's work through scholarly discussions and critical analysis.

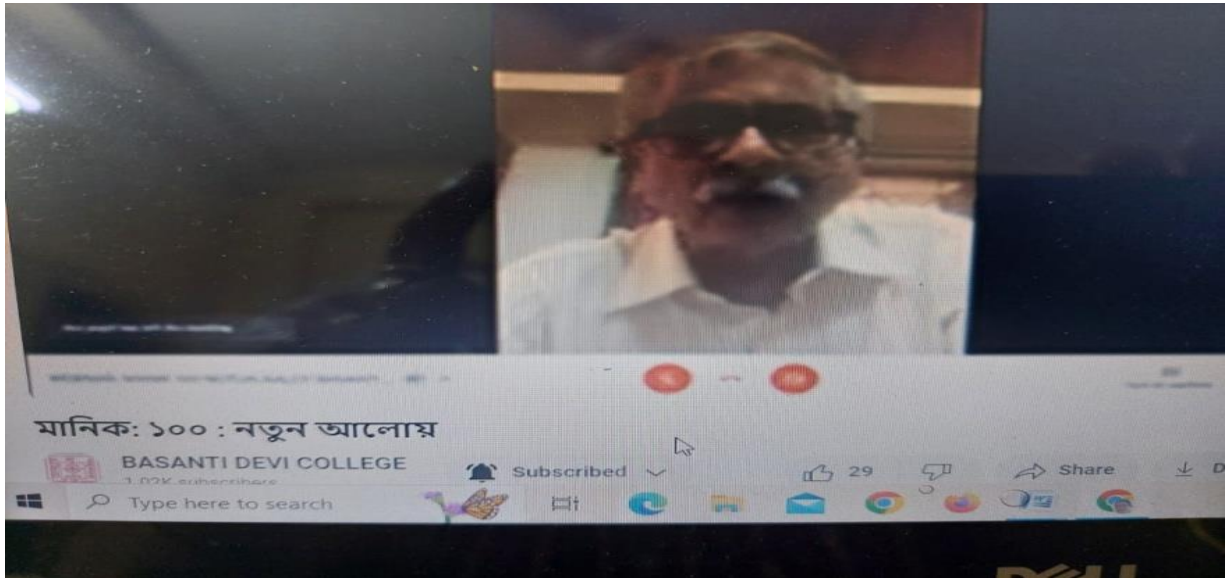

The webinar featured two distinguished speakers: Prof. Sonjoy Mukhopadhyay, Former Head of the Department of Film Studies at Jadavpur University, and Prof. Nirmalya Kumar Ghosh, Assistant Professor in the Department of Bengali at GMSM Mahavidyalaya. Prof. Mukhopadhyay opened the session with a detailed examination of Satyajit Ray's contributions to cinema, focusing on his innovative techniques and thematic explorations that have left a lasting impact on the film industry. Prof. Ghosh then presented a critical analysis of Ray's works from a literary and cultural perspective, emphasizing how his films reflect the socio-cultural landscape of India.

The webinar provided a rich, multidimensional understanding of Satyajit Ray's cinematic vision and was praised for its insightful presentations and engaging discussions. Participants appreciated the opportunity to delve deeper into Ray's oeuvre and explore his relevance in contemporary cinema studies.
