Report of the Program

On August 28, 2019, the Department of Education and IQAC at Basanti Devi College hosted a workshop titled "Open Learning" at the College Auditorium. The event was attended by 110 participants, including students, faculty members, and educational professionals, who gathered to explore the concepts and applications of open learning in contemporary education.

Dr. Madhura Datta, Assistant Professor at UGC-HRDC, University of Calcutta, served as the resource person for the workshop. Dr. Datta's engaging presentation covered the principles of open learning, highlighting its significance as an alternative to traditional educational models. She introduced various open learning platforms and methods, such as Massive Open Online Courses (MOOCs), open educational resources, and flexible learning opportunities that cater to diverse learning needs and preferences.

Dr. Datta discussed the advantages of open learning, including increased accessibility, learner autonomy, and the ability to reach a global audience. She also addressed challenges such as maintaining engagement and ensuring quality in open learning environments. The workshop included interactive sessions where participants explored practical strategies for implementing open learning practices in their own educational contexts.
